McDOWELL WELLMAN EQUIPMENT is on the site in North Escanaba where the Chicago & North Western Railway has started construction of its $16 million Escanaba Ore Port. Pictured is the beginning of excavation for footings for the conveyor belt system that will move iron ore and pelletized ore from the automatic car positioner and dumper (3 cars at a time) to the 60 acre ore storage yard or the new conveyor-type dock. All of the equipment for the Ore Port is now on order and under construction and first deliveries of parts for assembly of the huge machines are scheduled for mid-August. The mobile equipment will include a stacker for taking the ore from the conveyor system and pulling it, and a reclaim that will feed the stockpiles back into the conveyor system. The Ore Port will change Escanaba's historic method of receiving ore from Upper Peninsula iron mines at the port here during the navigation season and shipping it directly. With the opening of the new Ore Port next spring pelletized ore will move from the mine plants all year and be stored here instead of at the mines. The change is one of a number which are expected eventually to make both overland and lake movement of ore an all-year traffic. (Daily Press Photo by Christine Olson)

Circus Tent's Collapse Traps Crowd Of 800

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — Elephants trumpeted, the wind howled, the tent crashed. State Police said 85 of an estimated 300 spectators at the circus Tuesday night were injured, but none critically.

Scores had fled before the collapse, because of the violent thunderstorm. Police said approximately 800 persons had been in the tent, watching as the various acts were speeded. The tent can hold 4,000.

Of the injured, two hospitals admitted two dozen, hospital attaches said. Others were discharged or treated on the circus grounds.

The 300-foot-long tent was the scene of a performance by the Clyde-Beatty-Cole Brothers Circus in this Finger Lakes city.

Some in the audience said the collapse was preceded by a loosening of some of the aluminum poles holding up the tent and by a rush of water down the top above the center ring.

"There was a loud scream but there was no time for panic," said Bob Fasce, a reporter for the Auburn Citizen Advertiser who was in the tent.

Hit The Dirt

"Everybody hit the dirt and the poles came down," he said.

Fasce said some people crawled out from under the tent and others were freed when circus workers cut the canvas.

"People were crawling on their stomachs, caked with mud, coughing from swallowed rain water. Circus workers flashed knives as they ripped at the canvas to free as many persons as they could. Elephants bellowed in the background," he said.

"Glancing along the collapsed side of the tent, one could see people constantly crawling from beneath the canvas. . . .

"People reached out everywhere to lend a hand in getting out. Some helped others to their feet."

Jim Plugh, who was trapped beneath the canvas for about five minutes after the collapse, said:

"My eye caught one of the side support poles pull out of the ground and start to go up. My date got out in the aisle and started to go out and I grabbed the child of a friend in my arms and started down."

Dodge Poles

"Then the pole was all the way out and swinging. We made it to the ground, dodging the swinging poles."

"I looked up and saw the center pole coming toward us and dropped to the ground, shielding the child underneath me. We lay there for about five minutes—couldn't see my date but I felt her hand—and then there were people behind us, cutting the canvas with knives."

"It never entered my mind that we could suffocate," Plugh said.

Rescue workers were forced to crawl through ankle-deep water in search of those trapped underneath the ripped canvas.

About 2.9 inches of rain fell in a two-hour period and winds were gusting up to 40 miles an hour. The force of the storm ripped down power lines and flooded streets in the city, causing Mayor Paul Lattimore to order all nonemergency traffic from the streets.

Engravers Ratify Detroit Contract With Newspapers

DETROIT (AP) — Another striking union involved in the 237-day-old Detroit Newspaper strike has ratified an economic package calling for a wage hike of $33 spread over 34½ months.

The photo engravers union was the latest organization to ratify a tentative contract agreement with the morning Free Press and evening News, local president Norman Park announced Tuesday night.

Other unions which have ratified the agreement are the Paper and Plate Handlers Union and the Stereotypers. Other unions, including the International Typographical Union, the American Newspaper Guild and mailers, have yet to ratify the proposal.

Rocky Planning GOP Poll

By The Associated Press
New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller — rebuffed on his call for a cross-country poll to indicate who the strongest Republican presidential candidate would be—is reported ready to conduct it on his own.

Richard M. Nixon, whose aides along with Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss rejected Rockefeller's proposal Tuesday, concentrated his efforts today on increasing his commanding delegate lead for the GOP nomination.

Rocky To Pay

Nixon said he would ask Ohio's 58-vote delegation to consider which GOP presidential candidate would help them most at home in November. He planned to meet late today in Chicago with delegates from nine other Midwest states.

Rockefeller advisers said the governor could be expected to commission his proposed poll without the cooperation of Nixon or Bliss.

The governor had said the survey would cost at least an average $5,000 per state and said he would finance it on his own "to the degree that I can raise the money to pay for it."

He proposed either a survey of all 50 states or of the states with the largest cities. Aides said he probably would settle on the latter, expecting results in the cities to be favorable to him. Nixon aide Herbert G. Klein rejected the proposal with the comment: "A time of national crisis is no time for political gimmickry."

Bliss declined to participate on the ground that the national committee should maintain "complete neutrality" in the party's presidential race.

No Veep Offer

On the Democratic side, sources close to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey say he has offered the vice presidential spot if he wins the Democratic presidential nomination to no one.

They say he is not telling even his closest friends his preference for a running mate, and expect he will remain silent on his choice until the Democratic National Convention opens in Chicago Aug. 26.

But they acknowledge pressures could cause Humphrey to tip his hand before the convention.

Wallace Active

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy resumes his Democratic presidential campaign Friday with a western swing and is scheduled to speak minutes before Humphrey at a dinner in Olympia, Wash., on the eve of the Washington State Democratic Convention.

In other political developments:

—Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace, in Boston, accused the U.S. Supreme Court of "handcuffing the police" and said: "The country's not sick, the Supreme Court is sick."

—Former Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, campaigning for McCarthy, said in Atlanta, Ga., he believes Wallace could average 25 per cent of the vote in states where he is on the November ballot. "I think it's a hidden vote in many places," Mitchell said.

—Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey, asked Tuesday about McCarthy's request to address the national convention, repeated his position that McCarthy will have the speaking rights of any delegate.

"If he wanted to speak on the party platform," Bailey said, "I would assume he would be recognized."

Mass Housing Moves Doubted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing experts anticipate only gradual movement of Negroes into white neighborhoods as a result of a recent Supreme Court decision and passage of the federal open housing law.

"Our best guess is that there's going to be no huge, massive influx" of Negroes into white areas, said an authoritative source at the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The source said the main reason is that most Negroes simply can't afford to move into most white areas.

Eugene P. Conser, executive vice president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, agreed and added that moving is costly and "it takes time for people to find a different location. It's a great inconvenience for people to move."

The open housing provisions contained in the 1968 Civil Rights Act, passed in May, rule out discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin. It goes into effect in three stages and will cover 80 per cent of the nation's housing by 1970.

The Supreme Court decision, issued June 17, holds that an 1866 civil rights law prohibits all racial discrimination in sale or rental of housing.

It goes beyond the new law, whose one major exemption would have permitted discrimination by an owner of his own home who sells or rents it without the aid of a broker.

Housing Secretary Robert C. Weaver said the administration's new housing bill, pending in Congress, will add considerably to the supply of integrated housing within reach of Negroes in low and moderate income levels. He said some of the new housing units will be dispersed in white or predominately white neighborhoods.

But Weaver also said in an interview that one of the factors which might work against large-scale movement of Negroes to white areas is growing black nationalism whose advocates believe Negroes should live among themselves.

Yank Fliers Down MIG17 In Dogfight Over N. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops intercepted another Viet Cong force approaching Saigon today, and U.S. pilots reported shooting down a MIG17 in a brief dogfight over North Vietnam.

A force of about 200 guerrillas, moving toward Saigon in the darkness early today, ran into two companies of government troops, part of the big allied defense ring against a threatened new enemy offensive on the capital.

There were some government casualties in the confused fighting on the marshy plains five miles west of Saigon. But the Viet Cong force pulled back and vanished in the tangled waste land on the eastern approach to the city.

Destroy Sampan

Allied blocking forces had reported killing 37 guerrillas in three skirmishes Monday and Tuesday within 28 miles of the South Vietnamese capital. And the U.S. Navy reported its river patrol boats and helicopters destroyed three sampans moving enemy rocket launchers toward the capital.

With a new major attack on Saigon expected before the end of the month, U.S. B52 bombers flew six new missions Tuesday night and today against enemy jungle infiltration routes, supply points and camps 25 to 65 miles from the city.

Sees MIG Crash

In North Vietnam, enemy MIGs appeared about 11 miles southwest of Vinh Tuesday as U.S. warplanes made heavy raids against supply lines in the panhandle region.

Lt. Cmdr. John Nichols of San Diego, Calif., said he caught one MIG17 with a volley of cannon and missile fire from his Crusader jet. As Nichols broke off from his last firing pass, his wingman said the MIG smashed into the ground and exploded.

It was the 107th MIG claimed shot down in the war, while the United States has lost 47 warplanes in dogfights. The MIGs have challenged American fighter-bombers only a few times since President Johnson put the area of North Vietnam above the 19th parallel off limits to U.S. air attack three months ago.

U.S. Plane Lost

In Tuesday's bombing runs, Air Force Phantom jet pilots reported destroying at least 18 trucks in a convoy caught about five miles south of Dong Hoi. Another flight of Phantoms shot up a string of 60-foot barges nearby, and the fliers reported billowing fires on two barges loaded with fuel.

An Air Force F105 was shot down by enemy ground fire in South Vietnam Tuesday nine miles northeast of the abandoned Khe Sanh combat base.

The pilot bailed out and was rescued unhurt. It was the 278th U.S. warplane announced lost in combat in the South.

Three Held On Drug Charges In Sault Jail

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Three people are being held in the Chippewa County Jail in Sault Ste. Marie on charges of illegal possession of narcotics. All were arrested in cars coming from Canada across the International Bridge.

Twenty-year-old Jan Carritt of Pawlet, Vt., and 21-year-old Susan Auerbach of Syosett, N.Y., arrested Monday, waived examination on the charges and are being held for Circuit Court in lieu of $500 bail each.

Tuesday, customs agents arrested 21-year-old Louise Bauer of Denmark, Me., on a similar charge. She identified herself as a student.

Moonlighters?

GLENDAL, Ariz. (AP) — Glendale rancher Ed McAllister told police he awoke to find one of his fields had been cut during the night. His large baler had been used to bundle the hay, which thieves then carted off.

THE ESCANABA YACHT HARBOR was the scene Tuesday of the launching of the "Ethel Marie," a 35-ton, 62-foot long water taxi built by T. D. Vinette Co. of Escanaba. Powered by two V-12, 525 horsepower diesels, the boat will carry 103 passengers and three crew members from Mackinaw City to Mackinac Island in 20 to 25 minutes as opposed to the average of 40 minutes now required by most other carriers on the tourist route. Designed by Fred Ford Jr. of Grosse Pointe, the "Ethel Marie" will travel at 25 m.p.h. (Nevin Reynolds Photo)

Off-Duty Cops Fight; 2 Shot

NEW YORK (AP) — Two patrolmen were shot and wounded when a gunbattle erupted Tuesday night between three off-duty city policemen following an automobile mishap on the Cross-Bronx Expressway.

The injured were identified as probationary patrolman Nicolo J. Danisi, 24, in critical condition with a head wound, and patrolman John Dalton, 41, in serious condition with a chest wound. Both were in Jacobi Hospital.

Police, who promptly began an investigation of the incident, identified the third man as detective Frederick Gibson, 28, of the Bureau of Special Services. All three were dressed in civilian clothes and driving their own cars when the incident began about 10:15 p.m.

Senate Leaders Seeking Licensing For All Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders of both parties say they want a gun control bill to include the registration and licensing of all firearms, regardless of what the House does.

Both President Johnson and Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., have proposed bills requiring that all guns in the country be registered and their owners licensed. These measures were before the Senate judiciary Committee today with a Tydings spokesman rating the outcome a toss up.

"We have to face up to our responsibilities," a majority Leader Mike Mansfield said. "We shouldn't tell the House what to do, nor should the House tell us what to do."

Both Mansfield and Republican Leader Sen. Everett M. Dirksen said they favor Tydings' bill. Dirksen, in echoing his Democratic counterpart's sentiments on independent action said any difference with the House could be settled in a conference committee.

The House Rules Committee Tuesday cleared for floor action a bill to prohibit the interstate mail-order sale of shotguns and rifles.

Before doing so, the committee won a promise from Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, to oppose any effort to add on registration and licensing provisions.

Tydings' bill is similar to President Johnson's proposal, the difference being Tydings' bill would require federal registration and licensing only in states that fail to enact substantially equivalent legislation.

The administration bill provides for federal registration of firearms but the licensing of gun owners would be left to the states if they pass legislation meeting federal standards.

Jon Blair Wins Heroism Award

S4 Jon L. Blair Jr., grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lequia, 223 N. 19th St., has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal with "V" device for action on April 13 in Vietnam. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Blair, former residents of Escanaba, now living in Albion.

The citation for the heroism award stated: "Specialist 4 Blair distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous action on April 13 in Vietnam. His platoon was conducting a combat operation in the Tam Ky Province when they came under heavy fire from an enemy force of undetermined size.

Blair immediately rushed to the hardest hit section of the perimeter and commenced placing heavy and effective fire upon the advancing insurgents. He then provided accurate cover fire for his comrades as they evacuated the wounded to safe position. (Six of his comrades were killed in the action.)

"Although in constant danger of being overrun, Blair refused to withdraw from his position until assured that all the wounded had been evacuated. His personal bravery and dedication to duty are in the keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, the American Division and the U. S. Army."

Dow Plant Fire Hurts 2 Workers

MIDLAND (AP) — Two Dow Chemical Co. employees suffered minor burns in a fire Tuesday at the firm's Pelaspan plant at Midland.

Nine persons were in the three-story building when the fire started on the top floor. Observers said there was no explosion. Pelaspan is used in the manufacture of drinking cups.

An investigation into the cause is being conducted.

Lee McMillan Ending Career As Dock Agent

BY ALAN HOWARD

"I guess the last dock will go when I will, 'but then, I don't think anyone wants to read about me getting retired."

So said Lee A. McMillan, who returned Tuesday to the familiar Chicago & North Western Railway office where he had been the dock agent for so long for picture-taking and interviews.

McMillan, who hired on the C&NW as a clerk in 1923, is a modest man who would rather talk about his company than himself. But he is a courteous man too — one who would not refuse to answer a question about what he considered inconsequential.

We discovered that a close bond united McMillan's personal history of the last 45 years with that of the railroad. He was born June 28, 1903, in Rib Lake, Wis., graduated from high school there and came to the C&NW the following year. He began his railroad career as a stenographer.

"Yes," he said, "that was the thing to do in those days. It was a good stepping stone."

"But now," he added, using himself as a transition point to a subject more to his taste, "a young man wants to be a computer operator. Have you seen our IBM room? We're kind of proud of it."

That was an understatement. We got a tour of the computer room, including a detailed explanation of the equipment that now performs the work that took about 40 clerical workers when McMillan joined the company.

In those days the railroad and the ore dock were a different face. McMillan remembers the original Docks 5 and 6, long since gone, the fire of Oct. 24, 1924, when Docks 3 and 4 burned, and the days when Escanaba was the railroad's divisional headquarters.

He worked in the old division office building in his early days until he was promoted to chief clerk at the ore dock in 1936, a position he held for 10 years. On July 1 he officially stepped down from the dock agent position that he had held for 22 years.

McMillan, who lives at 409 S. 23rd St., plans to spend more time at his cottage on Ford River and to take a few trips.

As the interview came to a close he turned his head and noticed that he was being photographed. "Oh," he said, drawing out the vowel as in a sigh, "you don't want to waste your film like that!"

Lakeview Will Surface Drives

The annual meeting of Lakeview Cemetery Association July 8 reelected Charles W. Stoll as president, William Leiper as treasurer and Albin Olson as secretary.

In addition to the officers, the following trustees are serving on the board: Arthur Aronson, William Van Effen, Donald Guindon, Robert Clayton, Arthur Westby and Milton Embs.

During the year, the chapel and depository were painted inside and out and the board has made plans for black toping the roads in the cemetery this summer.

Owing to the increase in labor and other costs, the price of graves will be increased 25 per cent starting Jan. 1, 1969. Grave spaces are available in all sections of the cemetery.

Ann Revis Wins First Place With Original Design

Mrs. Ann Revis, Bark River Rte. 2, district leader for Tri-Chem Liquid Embroidery Inc., recently returned from a company midwest convention in Cleveland, Ohio, where she received a bronze plaque as first place winner in an original design competition for a dress that was co-designed and made by herself and Mrs. Roy Michel of Schaffer. The dress carried a circus and carousel theme.

This was the first time the U. P. was represented at the convention and Margorie Kangas of Hancock was elected queen, another U. P. first. Mrs. Kangas also received a second place award for a mother-daughter ensemble she entered in competition.

Mary Smith of Marquette also attended with Mrs. Revis and Mrs. Kangas.

Smiles Ordered

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Claude Kirk Tuesday directed the Florida Turnpike Authority to try harder in promoting the state's role in tourism and highway travel.

"I've been through your toll takers two or three times and they didn't smile at me," said the governor. "Get everybody smiling in those toll booths."

State Requires More Troopers

Higher Michigan trooper pay levels starting at $7,120 a year greatly improve the benefits and advantages of careers offered by the State Police, Sgt. Wilbert Treichel, commander of the Gladstone post, said today.

Opportunities for enlistment are excellent, he said, as there are many trooper positions open due to an increase in authorized personnel approved by the Legislature. Application for enlistment may be made at any State Police post.

"The new trooper pay base is effective for officer candidates beginning with the first day of recruit school. This figures out to be $593 monthly," the sergeant added.

Trooper pay increases by yearly increments until the new annual maximum of $10,001 in this rank is reached starting with the seventh year of service. This is $883 on a monthly basis.

To be eligible for enlistment, young men ages 21 to 30 must have a high school education or the equivalent, be at least 5 feet 9 inches tall and with weight in proportion to height. They must be of good moral character and free of any serious arrest record. They may be married or single.

Troopers normally work a 40-hour five-day week, but get paid for any overtime. They receive free uniforms and equipment. Annually they receive 15 vacation days plus credit for eight holidays and accumulated paid sick leave. Longevity pay begins after six years. Both longevity pay and annual vacation time increase with years of service.

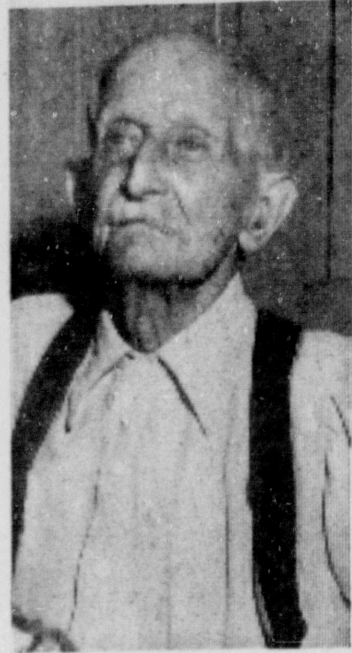

Upon completion of five years of service officers are eligible to take promotional examinations. Promotions of course mean increases in both regular and longevity pay.

Treichel pointed out that the State Police pension plan, one of the best, enables an officer to retire at half pay after 25 years of service. The same pension also protects the officer's wife should he die in retirement.

Men unable to contact a State Police post for further information may write to the Michigan Civil Service Commission, Lansing.

Picked From Hat

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The name of Eugene M. Koon was picked from a hat to become suburban Wyoming's newest City Commissioner. Koon and Gus Unseld Jr. were the commission's final choices to fill the unexpired term of Earl Robson, who resigned. After three secret ballots by commissioners ended in a tie, the two names were put in a hat and Koon's was pulled out.

MAX RUDIGER, Escanaba's "senior" citizen at 104 years of age, is currently a patient at St. Francis Hospital. Mr. Rudiger was admitted June 29 and the hospital reports that he is currently feeling quite well and is in extremely good spirits. Although his eyesight has failed he appears happy and enjoys talking with the nurses, speaking mostly in German. He was born in Germany on Oct. 12, 1863 and has resided in Escanaba about 80 years. ## Air Base Gets Forestry Plan

K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, now has a working forest within its boundaries. A forest management plan, directing the development of base forest land for timber, wildlife, recreation and water has been completed with help from the Timber Management Division of the Hiawatha National Forest, Escanaba. Management plans were written by Al Keskimaki, base forestry monitor, assisted by Ken Gehrke, forester, from the Hiawatha.

In a letter to Hiawatha Forest Supervisor Al Trout, K. I. Sawyer Base Commander Col. Murphy expressed his appreciation for help given in preparing the plan.

Under the plan, 1,700 acres, or one-third of the base, will be placed in forest management. Wood produced will be made available to local timber operators. Harvests of jack pine, aspen and other species will be made on an annual basis.

In addition to the harvest of timber, 500,000 trees are scheduled for planting during the next 10 years. First plantings were made this spring. Forty thousand red pine seedlings furnished by the Forest Service were planted. Assistance and guidance were given to base personnel by Spar Sager, Hiawatha forestry technician. Sager has been planting trees since the 1930s and was able to get the program off to a flying start.

ALBERT LIPPENS and son Kieth of Hyde show off a fine stand of clover cover and green manure crop that is being plowed down now in preparation for potatoes next spring. Two years are spent preparing the soil. Oats, straw, clover and another oats cover crop are plowed down, along with a total of 1,200 pounds of 6-24-24 fertilizer per acre in readying the soil for one crop of potatoes.

Producing Potato Crops Takes Careful Planning

"You cannot cheat with nature and get away with," says Albert Lippens, director of the Delta County Soil Conservation District.

When man steals from nature, he pays for the spoils many times over, Lippens said. The early lumbering men of Michigan stole from nature, probably without realizing it, by stripping the forest of all useful trees without regard for the damage to remaining forest growth; with a thought to replanting or reseeded and without concern about the slash left behind that could easily burn with the first spark or lightning stroke.

Man paid plenty when the great forest fires late in the 1800's and early in this century swept across Michigan, destroying lives and property and a whole generation of forest growth. In some places it will take centuries for soil fertility and forest growth to be rebuilt to the levels found before the "lumbering era" began.

"Citizens of Michigan paid a terrible price again when many lands unsuited to farming were cleared and farmed," Lippens continued. Farmers often plowed up and down hills, subjecting the soil to serious erosion. Valuable topsoil was washed away, streams polluted, lakes filled with silt, fish and wildlife lost.

Often, no fertilizers were applied, just crops removed until the soils were so barren of fertility that even weeds were sick. Man paid in bankruptcies, suffering, abandoned towns and lowered land values.

Must Invest

But if you treat nature honestly, paying the right price at the start, she will repay just as generously as she punishes, Lippens pointed out. The intelligent land user today knows that he must invest in his land to receive the most return.

A good soil steward must select the right soils for the use he intends to make of the land. He must drain soil if necessary, irrigate if necessary, rotate crops, plow down green manure crops and crop residues to improve fertility and fertilize well to achieve high, profitable yields. The more fertile the soil becomes and the more productive the plants are growing on it, the less likely he is to lose soil to erosion.

Example Cited

"Lippens is a good example of a farmer who is paid well because he invests wisely in his land," says Jack Kreiner, of the Soil Conservation Service. "Albert depends on his potato crop to bring in the 'bread and butter.' But it takes two years of preparing the soil before potatoes are even planted."

"The fields he planted to potatoes this spring were planted to oats seeded to clover in early spring, 1966," Kreiner said. "The oats were harvested, but the straw was left on the fields to add organic matter to the soil. The clover was left to grow. Last summer (1967) the clover was plowed down for a green manure instead of harvesting it for hay. The fields were then replanted to oats, fertilized with 400 pounds of 6-24-24 fertilizer per acre."

"The oats were left unharvested as a green manure and winter cover crop," Kreiner continued. "Early this spring, the third year of the rotation, the oats residue was plowed down and potatoes planted with 800 pounds of 6-24-24 fertilizer per acre applied."

Assistance Available

To summarize, in three years one crop of oats is harvested, all straw is left on the field, two cover and green manure crops are plowed down, and a total of 1,200 pounds of high analysis fertilizer was applied, Kreiner said. All of this was done just to get the field ready for one good crop of potatoes. For this time and investment nature pays back with high, profitable yields of quality potatoes. On the average year Albert can expect over 500 bushel per acre without any irrigation.

"High crop yields and profitable farming don't just happen, they are planned," says Lippens.

Aussie Gunman Is Hospitalized

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Wally Mellish was in a mental hospital today, unwanted by the Australian army or the convicted prostitute he married while holding her and their baby son hostage.

The 22-year-old ex-convict, who staved off besieging police for a week by threatening to kill 19-year-old Beryl Muddle and their three-month-old son Leslie, left his house Tuesday and surrendered when the police promised he could apply to fight in Vietnam. The army turned him down, and the police took him to the hospital.

Beryl, who was married to Mellish last Wednesday on the second day of the siege, said she is "through with Wally for good."

"Most of the time I was tied up with a dog chain and belt," she said in a statement. "Sometimes I was chained to a bed or a chair. I was more worried about the baby than myself. Then he decided to come out. ... Thank God it's all over."

Work Stopped On Navy F111

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has halted development of the Navy's controversial F111B fighter, it was disclosed today.

Congressional committees had knocked out funds sought by the Pentagon to continue work on the F111B, one version of the TFX warplane which former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had sought to develop into a multi-service plane.

The Air Force's F111A fighter-bomber is not affected by the action. In a statement, the Pentagon said Secretary of the Air Force Harold Brown issued a "stop work order" Tuesday to General Dynamics of Fort Worth, Tex., prime contractor for the swing-wing jets.

Brown acted upon the recommendation of the Navy, the Pentagon said.

Silver Dollars Pose Problem

WASHINGTON — (AP) — stashed away in a sealed vault in the basement of the Treasury Department is one of the most unusual problems ever faced by the nation's money men—what to do with three million silver dollars.

The Treasury has wrestled with the problem since 1964 when it stopped feeding silver dollars into circulation because all the remaining ones were worth much more than $1 as collectors items.

One Treasury official estimated the value in the coin collectors market at roughly $75 million.

The Joint Commission on the Coinage—the group of Treasury officials, members of Congress and private citizens who periodically review coinage policy—plans to discuss the silver dollar headache in detail at its next meeting Monday.

But some officials don't look for a quick solution. The commission has discussed the problem on and off since its first meeting in May, 1967.

It now has before it, however, the first hard suggestion from a Treasury official.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, has suggested sale of the silver dollars by the department at the collector-market value.

Gun Registry Plan Rejected

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Dade County (Miami) Metropolitan Commission rejected Tuesday a proposed ordinance requiring registration of all firearms. The proposal was defeated 5-3.

The city of Miami Beach recently adopted a strengthened gun control law requiring registration of most guns and fixing the penalty for violators at $300 and 30 days in jail.

Seaway Union Seeking Talks

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian Labor Congress requested the Federal Government Tuesday to step into the St. Lawrence Seaway strike and get realistic bargaining started.

CLC President Donald MacDonald said in a statement that "a rigid stalemate" exists between the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, representing some 1,250 Seaway workers who have been on strike since June 21.

It was up to the government to take the lead in breaking the stalemate, he said.

MacDonald supported the union's request for a 15 per cent wage increase in a two-year contract.

"Settlement on these terms would still leave the Canadian Seaway workers considerably below the rates being paid workers in similar operations on the American side, paid out of the same toll revenue," he said.

American Seaway workers, who begin their next wage negotiations in October, are not on strike, but they cannot operate the Montreal-Great Lakes waterway independently of the Canadians.

Of the seven wonders of the ancient world, only the Pharos of Alexandria, Egypt, was of practical importance to navigation.

Thick And Thin

The orderly flow of pulpwood to the mills has been an aim of the paper industry since its earlier days. It's a problem still not solved, as was shown by last year's woodyard surpluses, which have resulted in a sizeable cutback in pulpwood purchases in the Upper Peninsula this year.

There was a big cut of U. P. pulpwood in 1966 — some 837,000 cords — the largest volume reported since Ray Pfeifer of the Michigan Conservation Department started keeping records on pulpwood production in the state with the aid of wood industry and the American Pulpwood Association.

Mill buying in fear of a shortage and new high prices for wood not only solved any problem of wood shortage, but overdid it and created a surplus of wood. The U. P. 1967 production was put at 769,538 cords, but Pfeifer says that no one really knows how much wood there is cut and stacked in the woods and hoping to get to market. It is 1967-cut wood owned by loggers who haven't been able to sell it yet and by mill companies which bought it but haven't been able to make room for it in their crowded woodyards yet.

The mill companies control the wood market, of course; they're the consumers. In the past some may have thought that they took an advantage from a disorganized market and a rather chronic oversupply, which depresses prices. But they made several successive increases in prices which contributed to the 1966 record cut and the 1967 oversupply of wood.

Pfeifer says "Wisconsin's wood inventories have continued to rise throughout the past 27 months. They appeared early in 1968 to have been well above what might be needed as a 'cushion' for emergencies . . . Would it be possible for mills to stabilize their demand and purchases in Michigan and Wisconsin? Obviously, any effort to give longer contracts or purchase agreements would have to be accompanied by a strict schedule of deliveries and would be impossible if producers could not be relied upon to deliver."

Despite the current setback in orderly flow of wood to mills supplied by Upper Peninsula forests, Pfeifer predicts "significant increases" in pulpwood production in Michigan in the next several years. This is apt to be the view of most informed persons in the industry. The markets are growing and so will production. Factors like Mead Corp.'s projected new pulp mill in Escanaba would make a huge change in the central U. P. wood market.

The Upper Peninsula's trend toward bigness in wood industry is another indicator of the probability of more stability in wood marketing. This is desirable for more reasons than just the convenience of the pulp mill. When there's an oversupply and cutback in wood purchasing it works a very hurtful injury on the logging business, leaving many operators without the means of paying for their machinery or maintaining themselves until another year and better markets are available.

The increasing proportion of wood coming from the public forests — both state and federal — may be an influence on orderly supply. Most Michigan commercial forests lands are privately owned and they supply most of the wood to industry. All ownerships from which timber is sold are subject to market fluctuations, but because it takes preparatory work to move wood from public and large industrial forests, those flows tend to be orderly, while small ownerships are apt to move their wood when the price is up, contributing to gluts.

Although our foresters are knowledgeable men and familiar with the resource, they continue to be amazed how a combination of factors — with price as the most compelling one — will bring an avalanche of wood out of the forest. Despite this, the industry tends to overreact to reports that the lumberjacks have quit the business, or that workmen's compensation insurance rates have closed the logging operations.

Ray Pfeifer and the Conservation Department are making a big contribution to stability, we'd say, with their excellent reporting on the wood market and the fine cooperation they're getting from industry indicates that it wants to help too.

Age No Bar

Age will be served now. The man in his 40s or 50s who finds himself shelved, demoted or denied a job because he is considered to be "over the hill" will now have Uncle Sam behind him.

Federal law now protects persons "at least 40 but under 65" from arbitrary employment discrimination based on age.

The new law, passed last year, applies to employers of 25 or more persons in an industry affecting interstate commerce, employment agencies serving with employers and labor organizations with 25 or more members.

An employer is barred from refusing to hire and is banned from firing any person in the 40-to-65 group solely because of age. Neither may he use age as a basis for limiting, segregating or classifying a protected employee in any way that deprives him of employment opportunities or otherwise adversely affects his status.

Exceptions are made where age is a real and reasonable occupational qualification.

The new law adds age to race, creed, color, sex and national origin discrimination banned by the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Like that law, it specifies an enforcement procedure.

But like any other law, its success depends ultimately upon the compliance with its spirit as well as its letter by those to whom it applies.

Waste Dumping Ban Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation designed to prohibit the Army Engineers from dumping, or approving the dumping, of waste materials from dredging into Lake Michigan or other navigable waterways was proposed today.

Under the measure, sponsored by Reps. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., Thomas L. Ashley, D-Ohio, and other Great Lakes House members, the Army Engineers would be banned from dumping unless the secretary of the interior determined that to do so would not result in pollution of lakes or streams.

"Despite a national commitment to clean up our lakes and streams, one of the worst water pollution offenders is the federal government itself," Reuss said.

"If we do not act now to stop the practice of dumping, Lake Michigan will go the way of Lake Erie to an ugly, useless death."

Reuss said the Army Engineers dredges about 10 million cubic yards annually from harbors along the Great Lakes, and disposes most of the waste material — which ranges from grossly polluted sludge to relatively clean sand-in dumping grounds in the open waters of the lakes.

'The President Says We're Old Enough to Vote!'

Save Gripes; Build

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The student and other young folk are laying it on the adults as never before. But when one of their few heroes, Robert F. Kennedy, was alive he used to give it right back to the young ones.

Late one afternoon on the campus of Valparaiso University in northern Indiana, the senator spoke with some heat to a young questioner who was complaining about the "establishment's" failure to solve quickly some of the nation's critical problems.

Said Kennedy: "You and many young people like you are always asking why government doesn't do more about these problems. They should do more than they are doing, I agree."

"But I'd like to know why you don't do something about them. The government, for one thing, is you and me. And together we can help to change it. But a lot of things can be done without calling on the government at all."

"For instance, how much time do any of you spend in the ghettos or in poverty-ridden eastern Kentucky or on Indian reservations in your free time in summer? Why don't YOU do something about these problems instead of blaming all of our troubles on government?"

That exchange produced warm applause from a packed student auditorium. And it touched a nerve that many young people do not recognize as vulnerable.

This is the day when carrying placards, occupying buildings, marching, obstructing and disrupting a variety of

"Quotes"

Our biological drives are several million years older than our intelligence.—Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, 90, former president of Antioch College, on why modern knowledge seems unable to cope with modern problems.

He knows that the race problem is a great deal more than a summer problem and that's why there is a summer problem.—Lou Potter, editor of the TV program, "Black Journal," pointing out the sophistication of the ghetto Negro.

The fact we must remember is that we are educating students for a world that will not be ours but will be theirs. Give them a chance to be heard.—Dr. Carlos P. Romulo, president of the University of Philippines.

His coming quickly turns the tide. The propaganda floods subside. And now that he has changed the weather, Lion and lamb can vote together. God bless the Russian delegation. / I waive consecutive translation — Lord Caradon, Britain's chief delegate to the U. N., in a poem dedicated to Vasily Kuznetsov of the Soviet delegation after their countries agreed on a nuclear treaty.

I don't like the idea of legislating on the basis of hysteria and emotion.—Rep. William M. Colmar, D - Miss., chairman of the House Rules Committee, in delaying for a week a vote on gun control measures.

daily routines, have been confused with "activism." They are, in fact, merely a prelude to action.

The real question is not "When did you march?" but "What do you DO?" The young idealists who have pitched in to try and nominate Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota for the presidency can give a good answer to that question.

So can any students or others who have, in fact, gone to the ghettos to teach remedial courses to disadvantaged children, help with health care, or whatever. So can those who worked in the Peace Corps.

But for the all too numerous young ones who think that a placard is a magic wand which should produce instant peace and instant good society, the late Bob Kennedy's questions are crushing.

Their assaults on the awesome impersonal nature of modern government and business are at once hypocritical and a cop-out.

The large school lecture class, the huge corporation and big government have now been with us for decades. But within the inevitably impersonal framework of 20th-century industrial society, it has always been and it is now possible to live a highly individual, very personal life which has a real impact upon society without either shunning it, scorning it or trying to wreck it.

Indeed, there is impressive evidence that many young ones who rail against the impersonality of modern life are hiding behind it. How easy, for example, for a young American student radical to blame something called "international capitalism" for the near-starvation of 300,000 Brazilians, instead of crossing town to Harlem to help 25 or 30 deprived Negro youngsters learn to read.

Modern society is made less impersonal only when individuals contrive constructively to have a highly personal effect upon it. Our massive "establishment" is not going to be brought down or made better by those who either cop out or try to destroy it.

The young who choose these paths are simply underscoring society's impersonality and leaving to others, for good or evil, the task of making it "personal" in some degree or other.

Just as fortune smiles on those who give it a chance to help them, so does hard luck stay away from those who guard against it.

North's two-club bid was Stayman and when South showed four spades North took him to game. The contract is mighty sound. In fact, if spades break and the king of clubs is held by East, declarer can guess where the jack of hearts is and make a slam.

The hand is also set up for bad luck. Spades don't break, the king of clubs is held by west and if declarer does not guess where the jack of hearts is, he may go down. That is, he may if he does not find a way to eliminate the guess in hearts.

In a recent rubber bridge game at New York's Regency Club, Dorothy (Mrs. Jesse) Sammis of Greenwich used perfect technique to insure her contract in spite of the bad breaks.

Dorothy cashed her ace and king of spades, discarded one of dummy's clubs on the king of diamonds, and ruffed her last diamond. Then she led dummy's queen of clubs and let it ride. West was in with the king and could do no better than to return a club.

Dorothy proceeded to cash her ace and jack of clubs and threw East in with the high spade. East had a nice losing choice. He could play a heart and take care of locating the jack for Dorothy or he could lead a diamond and give her a ruff and discard.

An interesting feature of this hand is that if West had shown up with the three trumps instead of East, Dorothy would have insured the game by throwing West in with the high trump before leading clubs, whereupon West would have been end played in clubs and hearts.

Checking Hallmarks No Sign Of Culture

Dear Ann Landers: If you say this woman's behavior is correct I will take your word for it, and not give it another thought. Mrs. X is forever turning over the cups and plates when she attends a tea or a luncheon to see if it is bone china or something cheaper. I have seen her take eyeglasses out of her purse and examine the silverware.

She taps glasses testing for the true ring of expensive crystal. She sniffs book covers to learn if they are genuine leather or plastic. Once she touched a painting to see if it was a lithograph or an oil. The hostess was visibly irritated.

This woman is supposed to be one of the Boston Brahmins—beautifully educated and cultured to the core. What do you have to say about her conduct? —BROOKLINE

Dear Brookline: Cultured people don't examine china and silver for hallmarks while visiting friends. And don't believe the woman you described is beautifully educated. If she were she wouldn't have to ping the crystal, sniff books and touch pictures to learn if they are the real McCoy. She'd know.

Dear Ann Landers: I must comment on the woman who signed herself "Mother Of a Ruined Boy." Some of the details were so close to my own life that I'm sure people who know me think I wrote it.

My son is 24 years of age and he can't decide what necktie to put on in the morning. If the eggs are too hard he throws them in the sink. We sent him to three different boys' camps and he didn't stay in any of them more than seven days. He was turned down by six colleges and when he was finally accepted by a small junior college he stayed only 10 days.

If his father didn't own a business he wouldn't have a job. When a girl turns him down for a date he cries. I told her he was unnecessarily risky. Authorities said they learned later that Mrs. Marlin's occupation is walking airplane wings in an air circus—without a parachute.

Dear Another: Getting it off your chest doesn't help the boy much. He has needed professional help for a long time. See that he gets it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl with a strange problem. It is the way my boyfriend dances. It's not that he is a rotten dancer. He is very good. Too good.

I have done everything under the sun to follow him but I just can't do the fancy steps. I've practiced at home but he hasn't helped. If he would stick to simple dancing we would get along fine but he insists on doing the show-off stuff and it's not my style.

Why would a fellow embarrass a girl like that? Is there a solution? —TWO LEFT LEGS

Dear Two: I know the type. He doesn't need a partner because he's always doing a solo.

Tell him you'd be glad to do the simple stuff but when he wants to try for the cup to please let you know so you can sit the number out and he can get a girl who will help him look good.

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with—but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze and You—For Teenagers Only." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Summer Rush Of Tourists Is Filling Camps

There has been a let-up in rainfall during the past week and streams have reverted to near normal levels. Canoeing conditions are generally ideal. Fishing-wise, lake trout in Lake Superior continue to occupy the high interest point with success generally good. Fishing prospects in Delta County show bass is the only species for which success is good, and this in the area from Porcupine Point to the Fishdam Rivers in Big Bay de Noc. Fair is the word for other species with the best success for northerns in Little and Big Bays de Noc, and for panfish on Round, Pole and Chicago lakes and Little Bay de Noc above Gladstone. Stream fishing for trout has also been fair on the larger streams.

Good success is reported for lake trout in Munising, Shelter Bay and AuTrain areas and for northerns on Deer, AuTrain, 16-Mile, Fish, Round and Grassy Lakes. Success likewise good for panfish on AuTrain Lake and Basin and Wedge Lake.

Fair success for stream trout on Slapueck, Black, Johnson, Rock and AuTrain and for bass on AuTrain Basin, Baldy and Grassy Lakes. Success also fair for walleye on AuTrain Lake.

In Marquette County good success for rainbow is reported on Johnson Lake in the Gwinn area; fair success for stream trout on the Escanaba River system, for bass on Little Shag Lake, for walleye on Little Lake, and for panfish on Little and Big Shag Lakes.

Recreational traffic is very heavy and campground space and motels are at a premium. It is wise to plan your trips in such a manner as to be assured of facilities, suggest conservation officers. People contemplating use of state parks can check on vacancies in the Upper Peninsula by calling the Department of Conservation offices at Newberry or Crystal Falls.

Study Report Says Text Books Distort History

LANSING (AP)—History texts used widely in Michigan public schools are inaccurate, misleading and distorted with regard to minority groups, according to a special report prepared for delivery today to the State Board of Education.

The report, culmination of a year-long advisory committee study, found the 12 selected texts "very seriously deficient in their treatment of minorities in general and Negroes in particular."

The committee of three white and two Negro educators was appointed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley and was directed to survey social studies texts in the state. Aiding in the study were six historians, from Michigan to Louisiana, who each reviewed two books that committee research showed most widely used.

Books Inadequate
"That the historians so generally found these books to be inadequate is in itself disturbing," the committee concluded.

"But (we are) even more disturbed by a system that permits the preparation and distribution of books that fall so far short of reasonable standards." Under state law, local boards of education select books to be used in their schools.

"At a time when local, state and national attention is being focused on the necessity of rooting out discrimination and segregation, the shortcomings of these textbooks can only be interpreted as a further contribution to the possibility of tragic consequences," the committee said.

It asked Polley, as a matter of first priority, to urge all Michigan school authorities to evaluate the American history textbooks currently used in their schools and discontinue use of those falling short of standards outlined in the report.

Some Praise
Reviewers had some favorable comments and did not judge all 12 books to be equally inadequate, the report said. Books often were praised for "splendid assortments of maps, rich illustrations and clear and simply written prose," the report added.

Unfavorable comments in the report, however, greatly outnumbered the paragraph of favorable remarks. The individual criticisms were not linked in the report to particular texts.

Excerpts from quoted reviewers' comments dealt with:

—Historical inaccuracies that result from errors of omission:
"In the few paragraphs describing slavery, the student would never learn that slaves were not taught to read and that they were bought and sold like cattle, that they often suffered corporal punishment..."

"Glaring omissions make the book as a whole a gross distortion of the American past."
"Not only does this book ignore slavery as an economic institution, it spares its tender readers an account of what it meant to be a slave. This is of critical importance, for to describe the realities of slavery is to give the first dim insight into the structure and problems of the Negro today."

Explain Atom Splitting

"Here, finally is a textbook on American history that describes the splitting of the atom in a way that 7-year-olds can understand but fails to mention the desegregation decision of 1954. Even worse, it is a book which treats World War II without mentioning Adolph Hitler or the Nazi persecution of the Jews. If a 7-year-old can comprehend the splitting of the atom, he can understand the meaning of genocide."

—Inaccuracies that result from errors of omission:

One historian, the report stated, said a textbook "actually gives the impression that the recent gains made by Negroes has been so great that their present dissatisfaction is unwarranted."

—Avoidance of the controversial:

Avoid Controversy
"I noted in both books an attempt to avoid serious consideration of controversial topics, especially on contemporary matters which have contemporary significance. If his textbooks ignore these problems, a perceptive young person can hardly be blamed for doubting the relevancy of his formal education."

—Absence of the human element:

"There is no mention of the breaking up of families or of the hardship of the slave trade."

The committee said "youngsters should learn what effect the injustices Negroes experienced had on their individual lives. However, the reviewers found that this approach was lacking in the books they examined."

—Treatment of the current civil rights movement:

Slight Rights Movement
"The student is never given a full explanation of what Negroes are fighting against. Poverty, the detrimental effects of ghetto life, poor schools, job discrimination and the like are barely mentioned. Here, as elsewhere, violence against Negroes hardly appears."

—Absence of a moral stance:

"The lack of a moral stance (concerning slavery) contrasts sharply with a criticism of conditions in jails. Even if the authors felt it incorrect to condemn slavery, they could have presented the pro and antislavery arguments in more detail so as to allow the student to make a moral judgment of some kind."

Problems Ignored

The report says reviewers also found lack of discussion of religious intolerance and "their failure to give anything like an adequate picture of the dire condition of the American Indian."

Another reviewer, the report said, pointed out that one of the books he examined did not so much as contain the word "Jew" in the index.

Members of the advisory committee were: Dean J.W. Menge, of the Wayne State University College of Education; Dr. Hazel M. Truner, director of pupil personnel, Ann Arbor Public Schools; John Armstrong, social studies teacher, Kalamazoo Public Schools; Dr. Robert L. Green, of the Michigan State University College of Education; and Richard Lobenthal, director of the Anti-Defamation League, B'nai B'rith, Detroit.

Historians serving on the study panel were: Dr. Ray Ginger, Wayne State University; Dr. William Harbough, University of Virginia; Dr. John Higham, University of Michigan; Dr. Richard Storr, University of Chicago; Dr. Harold Woodman, University of Missouri; and Dr. T. Harry Williams, Louisiana State University.

New Yorkers Desert CORE

NEW YORK (AP) — Two New York City chapters of the Congress of Racial Equality have withdrawn to form a new organization charging that CORE "has done nothing for black people in the last year or two."

The chairman of the Bronx and Brooklyn chapters, at a news conference here, said about a dozen more regional chapters would withdraw.

Sol Herbert, chairman of the Bronx chapter, said he expected the Queens CORE affiliate and the Suffolk County chapter on Long Island to join the new organization. Robert C. Carson, head of Brooklyn CORE, said Sunday in Columbus, Ohio—after he walked out of the CORE national convention—that the Philadelphia and Kansas City chapters supported him.

But John Wesson, chairman of the Kansas City CORE, said today, "Whoever gave out the information about us withdrawing from the national CORE is making a big mistake."

Herbert and Carson charged that national CORE is paralyzed by an interior power struggle. Both men denied there was an ideological split within CORE.

The breakaway chapters will form a loose confederation "that addresses itself to the needs of the black community," Carson said. Herbert specified that no integrated chapters would be accepted.

Carson said, "We're not saying hate whitey, we're saying it's beautiful to be black."

Cavanagh Signs 'Stop-And-Frisk' As Curb On Crime

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has signed into law a city stop-and-frisk ordinance in a turnabout from a recent statement that he did not think it was necessary.

Cavanagh said Tuesday as he signed the measure that Detroit's incoming police commissioner, Johannes Spreen, had told him the law could serve as a deterrent to crime.

Guidelines will be established to insure equal application of the law among whites and Negroes, Cavanagh said Spreen had told him. The mayor did not elaborate on what the guidelines might include.

The Detroit Common Council had approved the proposal by a 5-2 vote, with Councilmen Mel Ravitz and the Rev. Nicholas Hood, a Negro, opposing it.

Had the mayor vetoed the measure, as he indicated earlier he might, the same margin would not have been sufficient to pass it over his veto.

Missing Boys Are Found Tuesday On Drummond Island

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—An intensive search by State Police, sheriff's deputies and Coast Guard units on Drummond Island Tuesday night turned up two 14-year-old boys who had been missing since Monday night.

William Aberg and Mike Tanner were reported missing by the father of one of the boys after a storm. A search began at noon Tuesday. The pair was spotted in a cove on the island after their 19-foot boat had been swamped with water.

They were reported in good condition.

MANISTIQUE

Berger, Stark In Judge Race

Robert G. Berger

Robert G. Berger of Manistique and Charles H. Stark of Munising have joined Harold Beaton of Manistique as candidates for the 93rd District judgeship of Alger and Schoolcraft counties.

The two candidates receiving the most votes in the Aug. 6 primary will be paired in a run-off election in November.

The District Court is an outgrowth of Michigan's new Constitution and replaces the duties of the justice of the peace. There is also jurisdiction over lawsuits up to $3,000 and crimes which were formerly circuit court misdemeanors. Duties dealing with foreclosures and landlord-tenant disputes have also been added.

Berger was born in Manistique and attended local schools. He graduated from St. Francis de Sales School in 1955 and from Manistique High School in 1959.

Chicago U Grad

With the aid of Inland Steel-Ryerson merit scholarship, Berger attended the University of Chicago, receiving a BA in economics in 1963, and his Doctor of Laws with honors in 1966. He was elected to membership in the Chicago Chapter of the Order of the Coif, an honor society founded to encourage and to advance the ethical standards of the legal profession.

While attending college, Berger worked summers for the Inland Lumber & Stone Co. and was a member of Steelworkers Local 4302. In law school, his summer work included work as a clerk to Probate Judge John S. Faketty and as brief writer for the indigent appeals program at the University of Chicago Law School.

Since graduating from law school, he was admitted to the practice of law in Illinois in 1966, participated in the foreign law program at the University of Chicago Law School and is currently involved in the legislative research program at the University of Michigan Law School. He was admitted to the practice of law in Michigan in ceremonies at the Schoolcraft County Circuit Court in June.

AMA Member

Berger is a member of St. Francis de Sales parish in Manistique, the University of Chicago Alumni Association, Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, the State Bar of Michigan and the Chicago, Illinois State and American Bar Association. He is a member of the Section of Insurance, Negligence and Compensation Law of the American Bar Association, and of its Committee on the Public Regulation of the Business of Insurance.

In announcing his candidacy for the district judgeship, Berger made the following statement: "The election of judges is one of the most important duties of the citizenry. The qualifications of all of the candidates ought to be given special attention by all the voters."

"The new district court is extremely important for in their own lifetimes most persons will not have a case tried in the circuit court. On the other hand, many people will be involved in the smaller cases which the new district court will handle. One person might have a case in the district involving only $25 but it may be that person's only contact with the legal system. I am certain that such small cases to a large extent determine people's respect for law and order itself."

To Organize Court

"The election of district judges this year will particularly be important because it will be up to these judges to organize the whole new lower court system and to advise the Supreme Court on the new rules these courts will require. Dedication and legal training and ability are crucial for these new judges."

"If elected district judge, I pledge to do everything to see that justice is done in every case—large or small—within my jurisdiction. I feel it is equally important that a case be decided promptly as well as fairly. There is such a thing as having the wheels of justice turn too slowly. I will cooperate with the law enforcement and juvenile authorities in this area."

"Just because under the new district court system judges must be lawyers is no reason that the new district judge cannot be close to the people. As your judge I will welcome and listen to any advice on the conduct of this new court that anyone sees fit to give me."

Stark Detroit Native

"The new district court system is going to cost the people a lot of money. If I am elected your district judge I will use all my energy, legal training and ability to earn my salary by giving the people of Alger and Schoolcraft Counties the best district court in the State of Michigan."

Charles H. Stark was born

Charles H. Stark

in Detroit, Aug. 29, 1933 and raised in Plymouth, Mich. He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1955 and received his law degree from the U. of M. in 1961. He served as assistant prosecuting attorney in Grand Rapids before moving to Munising six years ago. Stark is married to the former Barbara Susan Baldwin of Munising and they are the parents of two children. He has served as Alger County prosecuting attorney for the past five years and also served as Munising city attorney.

Stark has this to say of his candidacy:

"I know I can make a contribution to the District Court. I have had sufficient training and experience to fulfill the duties of this office. I have worked with the represented various boards—including the Alger County Board of Supervisors, Munising Township, Village of Chatham, and the Munising School Board. I have also served as Munising City Attorney for three years. My experience in these positions makes me acutely aware of the questions and problems which will come before the District Court."

Sentencing Concern

"The practice of law in a small town, my experience in the prosecutor's office and with local governing bodies has given me a broad insight into human motives and interests. This experience should enable me to do a common sense job of the criminal and civil areas of the court. The question of sentencing on the relatively minor charges has concerned me greatly."

"The necessity of knowing the total circumstances of an arrest and the past record of the offender before sentencing has been impressed on me by this experience. These difficult judgments must be made with understanding on an impartial basis relying on demonstrated behavior pattern."

"I feel I can add to an effective and even-handed approach to this problem. I feel I have something to offer out of my training and experience for the position of district judge."

Talisman Failed This Moonshiner

LAGRANGE, N.C. (AP) — Federal agents poured out 2,622 gallons of moonshine whisky worth $40,000 if sold by the drink and made one arrest in a raid on a farmhouse east of LAGRANGE. Agents said a mojo was hanging from a tree in the back yard. A mojo is parts of a turtle in a whisky bottle. The superstition believe it will keep away evil elements and the law.

Bridesmaids In Blue

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an A-line street length dress of whipped cream with a portrait neckline and elbow-length sleeves edged with ruffling. Four silver brocade buttons on the front of her dress were taken from her mother's wedding gown. Her cloche-style headpiece featured a back bow and was accented by blue carnations at the nap. She carried a single long-stemmed blue spider mum decorated with a blue bow and streamers.

The bridesmaids wore identical blue replicas of the bride's dress with blue cloches accented by white carnations at the nap. Each carried a single long-stemmed white spider mum with a white bow and streamers. They wore monogrammed silver lockets, a gift of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wilson chose a one piece yellow dress with yellow and white accessories. Mrs. McManus wore a 3-piece rose beige lace ensemble with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of carnations.

Home In Rockford

A wedding dinner at the Surf was held for the wedding party and immediate family following the nuptials. A reception for 200 guests was held from 6-12 p. m. at the Armory.

Following a wedding trip to Virginia Beach, Va., the couple will make their home in Rockford, Ill. The bride is a 1966 graduate of Manistique High School and a 1967 graduate of Alberto's School of Cosmetology, Rockford, Ill. The bridegroom is a 1963 graduate of MHS, served two years as a paratrooper in the United States Army, and is presently employed at Cotta Transmission Co. in Rockford, Ill.

Plan Summer Concerts Here

Robert King, conductor of the Altoona, Pa. Symphony Orchestra and a summer resident of Manistique, has announced a series of Chamber Music Concerts which will be held August 4, 12, and 15 in Manistique.

The concerts will be sponsored by "Manistique Friends of Music" and performing artists include King's wife Mary, a violinist and pianist; Sue Gewinner, cellist with the Oakland, Calif. Symphony Orchestra; Pat Barber, former oboist with the Altoona Symphony who has also appeared in concert at the Mansfield State Teachers College, Pa.; Robert Mumper, head of the piano department at State University of New York, who recently returned from an European concert tour and formerly performed with the Lexington, Ky. Philharmonic Orchestra.

Mrs. James H. Fyvie and Mrs. John Orr, both local pianists, are expected to appear in concert with the group.

King has just completed his first year with the Altoona Symphony Orchestra and went to Altoona following five years as originator and conductor of the Lexington, Ky. Philharmonic. He received his MA in music from the Eastman School, University of Rochester, and his doctorate in Music from the University of Illinois. He serves as conductor of the Youth Orchestra of Altoona and director of the Altoona Chamber Music Series, in addition to conducting that city's Symphony Orchestra.

Chamber Music, according to the Harvard Music Dictionary, is "instrumental ensemble music performed by one player to the part, as opposed to orchestral music in which there are several players to the part. The emphasis in chamber music is on the ensemble, not the single player."

Solar Flare Knocks Out Shortwave Radio

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Magnetic storms, triggered by the biggest, brightest solar flare in more than two years, produced an unscheduled view of the Northern Lights and again fouled up shortwave radio communications around the world Tuesday night, government scientists said.

More of the same appears to be in the offing. Forecaster Karl Kildahl at the U.S. Space Disturbance Forecast Center said there is a good chance of similar phenomena Wednesday night or Thursday as a result of another major, though smaller, flare Tuesday.

And, he said, data analysis showed a 65 per cent chance of a third large-magnitude flare Wednesday, when the effect of the first was expected to subside.

Residents of the northern United States should have been able to see a reddish glow on the northern horizon Tuesday night—"like little red fingers that go up into the sky and fall down again," Kildahl said.

The shortwave blackout Tuesday was less troublesome than the initial magnetic storm recorded at 1:03 p.m. EDT Monday.

Those first "noise storms" knocked out transmissions between 184 and 10 megacycles, Kildahl said. Tuesday night, the storms blacked out the range between 30 and 3 megacycles, he said.

Monday's flare was measured as Class 3 on a scale of brightness and size that uses Class 4 as a maximum. The last flare of comparable magnitude was in May 1966.

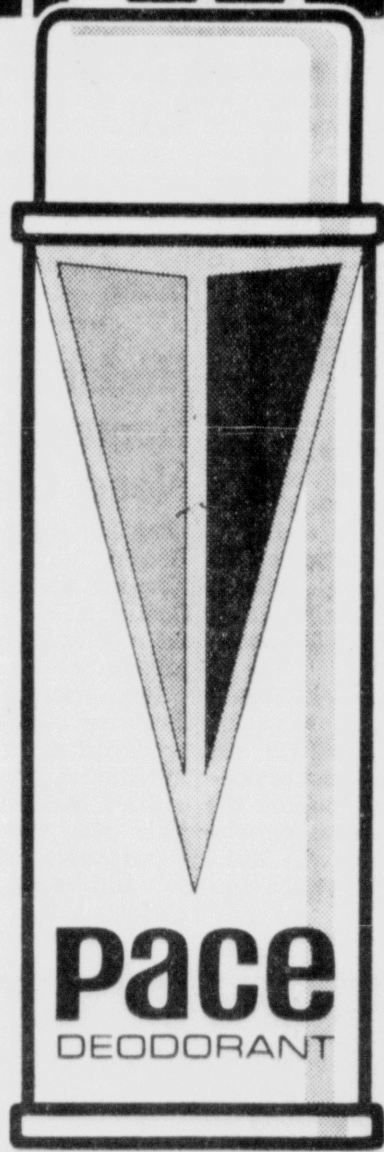

The flare reported Tuesday at 2:07 p.m. EDT, was rated at between Class 2 and Class 3, still considered major. It also caused widespread shortwave

Tooman Named To Board; Special Meeting Called

Charles L. Tooman, former member of the faculty at Bay de Noc Community College and currently on the staff of the Upper Peninsula Family Life Bureau of Escanaba, was named to the Escanaba Area Board of Education Tuesday night.

Tooman is expected to sit with the board for the first time Thursday at a special meeting scheduled for noon at the House of Ludington at which the board will finalize plans for its special millage election Aug. 19.

The financial picture of the school district — including proposals for the next millage election — were discussed in detail by the board in executive session Tuesday after a two-hour session disposed of other business.

Tooman, 215 Ogden Ave., came to Escanaba in 1966 to teach English at the community college. He has a master's degree in English from Ball State University, Muncie, Ind., and received his bachelor's degree from Manchester, Ind., College.

Items Tabled

He was a full-time teacher in Indiana high schools for four years and also was on the faculty of Slippery Rock State College, Slippery Rock, Pa., before coming to Escanaba.

The critical financial picture of the school district was not considered in open session, although two items requiring expenditures by the school district — hot lunch program and membership in the Michigan Association of School Boards — were tabled.

The hot lunch program was discussed and Ted Breitenbach, who directed the program before it was dropped last year, said he would work with the Board of Education on re-establishing the program if the board desired.

Breitenbach was critical of statements made last fall when the program was discontinued, pointing out that the lunch program was operated "for the benefit of the students" and not as a money-making restaurant.

Bid Accepted

The Board pointed out, however, that the program lost some $7,400 in the 1966-67 school year and that it was discontinued as an economy move.

A decision on whether or not to re-open the hot lunch program is not expected until after the Aug. 19 millage election. Membership in the Michigan Association of School Boards would cost the Escanaba Area district about $780, double last year's cost. A decision on the membership was not made, pending review by new board members of services provided by the Association.

In other business, the Board accepted the low bid of the Markel Co., of Iron Mountain in the amount of $11,275 to correct roofing problems at six elementary schools — Ford River, Pine Ridge, Wells, Cornell, Webster and Soo Hill.

The bid was more than double the budgeted $4,750, but architect Norman Arntzen recommended acceptance. The only other bid was over $14,000.

Policy Approved

The Board also resolved that school facilities not be rented to private individuals or firms for profit-making enterprises without the expressed permission of the Board of Education. The resolution was passed after debate on a request by an Escanaba man to rent the high school commons area for weekly teen-age dances.

The proposed high school sign will be re-designed. Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett reported. Bids on the sign were opened last week and quotations were more than double the $2,000 available from the graduated classes.

The High School Student Council had requested the Board of Education seek bids on the sign, using money from a fund accumulated from senior class treasures.

Queen Contest Entries Sought

Upper Peninsula beauty contest winners will vie for the title of Upper Peninsula State Fair Queen Aug. 14, according to Cliff Perras, fair manager.

Contestants must be single and between 16 and 22 years of age. A girl also must be a queen of some event in her community and must be sponsored by a local organization, Perras said.

The Fair Queen will reign over activities of Fair Week and serve as official Fair Hostess.

United State Savings Bonds will be presented to the Queen, first and second runners-up.

Cherri Maskart, 1966 Upper Peninsula Fair Queen, will direct the 1968 competition. Miss Maskart is a student at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

Entries may be sent to Miss Maskart, 599 N. 9th St., Gladstone, or to the U. P. State Fair office, Escanaba, before Aug. 2. Entry blanks are available in the 1968 premium book.

Judging will be held in the afternoon and evening of Aug. 14 and is one of the numerous free grandstand attractions.

The new queen will be crowned by Kathy LaMont of Munising, 1967 Fair Queen.

In conjunction with the queen competition, amateur and professional musicians of the Upper Peninsula will compete in the 2nd annual Battle of the Bands.

THE BAYS DE NOC "ANGLATHON" catch is rapidly approaching the quarter mile pole, as shown in this illustration. A total of 426 yards of fish have been registered at stations in the Big Bay de Noc and Little Bay de Noc areas, according to "Anglathon" officials. Prizes donated by area merchants and businessmen will be awarded to the person who catches the fish pushing the accumulated catch over the various "milestones" of the "Anglathon."

LEWIS WHETSTONE, center, and his son, Steve, of Edmore, receive awards from Robert Porter, right, of Tylen's Resort, for passing the 200-yard milestone for all species in the Big Bay de Noc division of the "Anglathon," a fishing contest sponsored by the Bays de Noc Resource Council. The Whetstones passed the milestone with a joint catch of 16 steelhead trout, taken with worms and spinning equipment from the Sturgeon River near Flowing Well Campground in the Hiawatha National Forest. They received a trophy and merchandise valued at $50.

THE PASSING OF THE 200-yard milestone for all species in the Little Bay de Noc division of the "Anglathon" fishing contest is observed with the presentation of a trophy and merchandise to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ciabattari, left, of White's Bay Shore Cabins, Gladstone, and Walfrid Lindberg, owner of the cabins at which the Ciabattaris have vacationed for 28 years. The contest winners have caught 125 pounds of fish so far this year. The 100-yard milestone for northern pike also was passed by Frank Bascomb of Chicago.

Rev. Edw. Malloy Retiring Pastor, Is Honored

PERKINS — Rev. Edward Malloy, retiring pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Perkins, was honored for his 14 years of service to the parish, in the Church Hall last Sunday evening.

When Father Malloy entered the Church Hall the capacity crowd greeted him by singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Gene DeKeyser then presided at a program honoring him. Nap Sharkey, Hilda LaChance, Anita Luukkonen, George Kulack and Agnes Peterson gave brief talks representing the various societies and organizations of the parish.

Rev. Emmett Norden of Marquette, a native of Perkins, also addressed the group. The talks were dispersed by various musical selections from the Perkins School band, the Rock School band, and a guitar duet from Brampton. After a response given by Rev. Malloy the program concluded by everyone singing Irish songs and Auld Lang Syne. The group singing was led by the Church choir, accompanied by Eunice Peterson.

A lunch was served by the ladies of the parish. The centerpiece was a very large cake made in the shape of an open Bible made by Mrs. Irene Eagle, with a gift of money from the Rev. Malloy was presented with a gift of money from the parishioners. He will now reside in Escanaba, beginning July 11.

Hanoi Reminded Of U.S. Aid Bid

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman today sought to revive the three-year-old idea of American support for a Southeast Asian economic development program in which North Vietnam would participate if peace can be achieved.

Harriman as he began another meeting with North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy recalled that President Johnson had pledged U.S. financing for a development program in a speech at John Hopkins University in April 1965.

"We are going to make a strong plea for peace for the people of Southeast Asia," he said, "analyzing what could be done if the countries of Southeast Asia worked together as the President suggested. . . in a cooperative plan inviting North Vietnam to take part."

But he added that social and economic progress can only be achieved under peaceful conditions.

Urge Saigon Talks

Harriman also said the U.S. government has "always been very glad to encourage any talks between Hanoi and Saigon that will lead to peace." That was his response to a newsman's question when asked about a new call for direct talks issued here Tuesday by Ambassador Bui Diem, South Vietnam's observer for the Paris talks.

"North Vietnam," Harriman said, "must learn to live with its neighbors not in fear but in peace."

The meeting today was the 12th round in the deadlocked

Paris discussions of how to de-escalate the war in Vietnam.

Reject Reciprocity

In each of the previous sessions, which began May 13, Thuy has demanded that the United States end all remaining attacks on his country. Harriman has demanded some display of "restraint" by North Vietnam, preferably reduction of its infiltration of troops into South Vietnam. Thuy has rejected such "reciprocity," contending that the United States is guilty of aggression against North Vietnam.

North Vietnam's position was repeated Tuesday by Nguyen Viet Dung, Hanoi's ambassador in East Berlin, who told a news conference in Copenhagen: "There can be no talk of any reciprocity as the U.S.A. and her vassals clearly are the aggressors."

Since the 11th meeting last Wednesday, Harriman and Thuy have conferred separately with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant. But there has been no suggestion that either of the negotiators gave Thant any reason to hope for an early break in the stalemate.

A major subject of Johnson's weekly luncheon with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Clark Clifford appeared likely to be the Honolulu meeting with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam.

The two-day summit, announced in Saigon, is expected to take place about July 20.

Other diplomatic, military and intelligence advisers were invited to the luncheon following a Cabinet meeting and a Johnson session with Secretary of Commerce C. R. Smith.

Johnson's Air Force One jet landed at Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland at 2:21 a. m. EDT, ending a seven-day trip that saw him travel more than 6,000 miles and become the first American chief executive to visit all five Central American countries.

Peter Halfaday Held For Trial On B&E Charge

Peter Halfaday, 21, of Harris, was bound over to Menominee County Circuit Court Tuesday on a charge of breaking and entering by Justice Ray Peterson of Spalding.

Wondrous Willie Scores Only Run In 1-0 Victory

HOUSTON (AP) — Things happen when Willie Mays is on a baseball field and that as much as anything tells why the National League won its sixth straight All-Star Game against the Americans Tuesday night.

Wonderous Willie made the difference again, scoring the only run in the NL's 1-0 victory over the Americans in the 39th All-Star renewal held in the Astrodome.

They call the Dome the eighth wonder of the world but you'd have trouble convincing the American League that Willie doesn't deserve that designation instead of the indoor ball yard.

Mays managed to build a first-inning run and in this year of the pitcher one run often is all a team needs. It was all the Nationals needed with six pitchers sharing a three-hit, 11-strikeout performance against the frustrated Americans.

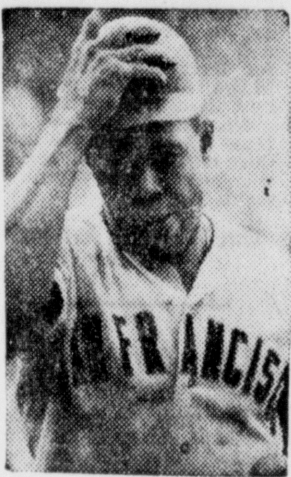

The AL hitters hit only three fly balls all night and none to Mays' center field zone. But Willie fought the freezout on the bases.

Mays, who only became a starter because Cincinnati's Pete Rose broke his thumb Saturday night, opened the game with a single against Cleveland's Luis Tiant.

He led off first and Tiant threw over to Harmon Killebrew. Mays stepped back, then again led away. Again Tiant tossed and this time, disaster. "He said the ball moved," said Tiant, quoting Killebrew. "I guess it curved."

Mays thought it glanced off his back. At any rate, the ball eluded Killebrew and Mays took off for second.

Now Tiant turned his attention to Curt Flood, St. Louis' fine center fielder who was playing left because a fellow named Mays was in the NL lineup.

Tiant fell behind and on the fourth ball, he uncorked a wild pitch that flew high over catcher Bill Freehan's head.

Tiant said he crossed Freehan up on the pitch, delivering a high fastball when the catcher called for a low curve.

"It can happen a lot of times when you get a strange catcher working with a strange pitcher," said Dick Williams, manager of the American League team.

Mays moved to third and with Flood at first and none out, it looked like a big inning budding. The AL played the infield back, hoping for the double play. Willie McCovey cracked a sharp shot on the synthetic astro turf right at second baseman Rod Carew.

Carew hesitated for a fleeting moment, but Mays already was bearing down on the plate, so the Minnesota infielder went for the double play. The AL didn't know it, but they had won the battle and lost the war.

"I had no idea one run would win it," said Mays. "I was just lucky enough to score the winning run."

The hit that started the rally was Mays' 23rd and the run he scored was his 20th in All-Star play—both records.

Now that they had their run, it was up to the NL pitchers to hold the edge. And they came through beautifully.

Don Drysdale permitted a lead-off double to Jim Fregosi and the AL didn't have another runner until Tony Oliva doubled against Tom Seaver with two out in the seventh.

Twenty batters went up and down in between against Drysdale, Juan Marichal, Steve Carlton and Seaver. There was another two out double in the eighth by Don Wert and nothing more.

Seaver struck out five batters in two innings and in the last three innings of the game seven of the nine American League batters retired went down on strikes. Ron Reed and Jerry Koosman shared the ninth, fanning two between them.

American League hurriers were almost as sharp, allowing just five hits and striking out nine. But Mays' first-inning run made the difference.

NFL Owners Open Doors For Further Bargaining

CHICAGO (AP) — National Football League owners, refusing to buckle to additional player pension demands, Tuesday kept their camps closed to veterans but opened the doors for further negotiations.

The owners said their training camps would remain closed unless the Players Association permits all veterans to report but added the camps would be open to rookies for tryout purposes.

They also announced they would attempt to fulfill preseason game commitments "on the assumption that clubs have an adequate number of players, properly conditioned and prepared to play."

Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns and president of the NFL, left the door ajar for further talks by saying, "We will be available to meet with the Players Association anytime to arrive at a mutual agreement."

Modell called the emergency meeting of owners Monday night after negotiations between the Players Association and NFL owners' representatives broke down earlier in the day.

The players want an immediate hike in their pension fund while the owners want to hold off until 1970 when the merger with the American Football League is complete.

At the completion of the meeting, Modell said the owners are prepared to continue negotiations and were in touch with the players' attorney, Dan Shulman of Chicago.

The owners also said they would not dip into semipro ranks or the minor leagues for talent.

Vince Lombardi, general manager of the Green Bay Packers, said he was standing on his original statement that the Packers will play in the College All-Star Game in Chicago Aug. 2 only "if our team is properly conditioned and if we have a sufficient number of rookies in camp to field a team."

Modell said the subject of possibly abandoning operations for the entire season was not discussed in spite of pre-meeting remarks by several owners that abandoning operations was a possibility.

Stonebreaker Claims Outside Strike Help

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Veteran linebacker Steve Stonebreaker claimed Tuesday that "someone outside" the National Football League Players' Association is directing the threatened strike.

The linebacker for the New Orleans Saints did not say who he meant but Stonebreaker did say he felt a threat of Teamster union representation for the players made some of the pro vote to strike.

"I know this ain't going to make me popular with some of the other players," said Stonebreaker, a former star end for the University of Detroit. "But I think there's something more to this than meets the eye—something on the outside."

Asked if he meant that someone outside the NFL was calling the shots for the Players' Association, he said, "that's right."

Stonebreaker added that he felt the average player is being misrepresented.

"I don't think the players want the Teamsters to take over football," he said. "I don't believe this is realistic."

"The original premise of the strike was the owners were not recognizing us and we were being treated like step-children," he said. The owners have agreed to 21 of 22 points presented by the association—all except the pension.

"That's recognition, and I think the owners have been fair. Maybe it's time the players be a little fair now."

"There's only one man that's standing up and being counted now and that's John Gordy (Detroit Lions tackle and president of the Players' Association)."

Stonebreaker said he is going to the Saints training camp even though only rookies will be allowed to participate unless all veterans report.

"I know this is not going to make me the most popular guy in the NFL," he said. "But football is not really the sweatshop people like to think it is. The integrity of the game and the image of the professional athlete is being tarnished now."

"I think you've got to make a stand now that training time is here. I had hoped some other big name players would have come forward. I think these players have an obligation to the game of football which put them where they are today."

Highland Golf Club To Host Peninsula Women's Golf Event

The 42nd annual Upper Peninsula Women's Golf tournament will get under way July 14 at the Highland Golf Club. The four-day event is expected to attract a field of 100 golfers from the Upper Peninsula, northern Wisconsin and Canadian Soo.

Linda Uren of Pine Grove Country Club of Iron Mountain will defend her title, which she has held for the past four years. Many other former champs also will be on hand for the tourney.

General chairman is Mrs. Vicky Beck. She and her committee have busily prepared for the tournament, starting last fall to get the ball rolling. Various functions have been planned in addition to the golfing for each day.

Sunday, July 14th, and Monday morning the golfers will register, with the qualifying rounds to start at 8:30 a. m. Monday. Lunch will be served between rounds, and a board of directors meeting will be held at the Highland at 4:30 p. m. A picnic supper will be held at the club at 6 p. m.

Tuesday will find the first round of matches beginning, following a short breakfast at 8 a. m. A cocktail party will be held at the Dells Supper Club at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday's matches will also start at 8:30 a. m., followed by a banquet at the club at 7:00 p. m.

Thursday will be the final day with matches starting at 8:30 a. m. These will include the Semi-Final, Championship, 1st Round Consolation, First Flight championship and the finals in all other flights. There will also be a Flag Tournament. At 1:30 the Championship finals and Consolation will be held, followed by a social and prize presentation at 4:30.

The tournament committee includes Elaine Nelson, co-chairman; Carol Davidson, secretary-treasurer; Lorraine Johnston, publicity; Donna Perron, decorations; Doreen Bartoszek and Blanche Christie, hospitality; Bernice Hanne-mann, entertainment; Lorraine Teal, registration; Irene Milkovich, Muggs Beauchamp, Judy Ambeau and Clara Rablein, prizes; Lois Anderson, picnic chairman; Helen Lewis, banquet chairman; Marion LaBranche and Mildred Jensen, social chairmen. The rules committee include Elaine Fairchild, Highland, Doris Kivela, Escanaba Country Club and Dorothy Coulter, Gladstone Golf Club.

Caddies will be needed, so any boys interested are asked to please report to the Golf Club, Monday morning by 8:00 a. m.

Manske Masters Highland Wind

High winds sent the scores soaring in Twilight League play at the Highland Golf Course with the lone exception of Mel Manske's round of 37. Other low scores included Jack Smith's 39, Barney Barnhart and Dave Erickson 40, Earl Koch, Dave Friets and Al Davidson 41, and Mel Bertrand 42.

In team play, the Free Swingers had their league lead cut by two strokes and now lead the Super Valus by only 2 1/2. Doug's Dubbers remain in third place, 6 1/2 strokes off the pace.

Golf Ball winners were Dave Mason, Palmer Derouin, Ernie LaCrosse, Ward Steimert, Glenn Fleetwood, Nick Chapekis, and Carl Hendrickson.

Team Standings: Free Swingers 57, Super Valu 54 1/2, Doug's Dubbers 50 1/2, Bogey Men 49 1/2, Con's Clubbers and Hackers 46, Barney's Beavers 45, Has Beens and Divot Diggers 41 1/2, W. R.'s 39, Dave's Dandies 38, Smitty's Smackers 35, Ding-a-lings 28 and 7 Dwarfs 27.

Top Golfers Find Open Play Tough

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP) — Bill Casper, leading money winner on the American pro circuit, scrambled to a par 72 today as the world's top golfers found going tough in the opening round of the British Open Golf Championship.

Of the early American finishers, Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., soared to a 78, as did Jerry Pittman, a teaching pro from New York. Hubby Habjan, club pro from Chicago, had a 77.

Mike Bonallack, top British amateur and a member of the Walker Cup team, and Brian Barnes, obscure English pro, were the early leaders with two-under-par 70.

Jack Nicklaus, the favorite, was a late starter as were such favorites as defending champion Roberto de Vicenzo, Gary Player of South Africa and Arnold Palmer.

Winds with growing intensity whistled across the aged links where Ben Hogan won the British Open with a course record 282 in 1963.

There were 130 in the field starting over the 7,252-yard course, rated one of the toughest in golf.

Casper, San Diego, Calif., birdied the seventh with an eight foot putt for a three and got down a putt of similar size for a birdie three at the 11th.

Some of his pars were the hard way though, especially the 473-yard 12th where he holed a 25 foot putt for his four.

"I played good and I played bad," he said. "I was fortunate to get out of it with a 72."

The gradually increasing wind, the winding barry burn which crosses the course eight times and the other peculiarities of Carnoustie make it a remarkable course, said Casper.

"You will use more clubs in your bag on this course than on any other I've seen," he commented.

Among other early scorers were a 72 by South African Bob Charles, former British champion and a 76 by Clive Clark, one of the new young English pros.

Andrews Leads League Golfers

Dave Andrews topped all golfers in the Escanaba Country Club's Twilight League play last night as he fired a brilliant 34.

Following Andrews in scoring were Jim Fitzharris and Bill Els Jr. with 39's and Jack Magnuson and Arne Anderson which he was decorated. He has with 41's. Dexter Babcock was closest to the pin on Number 7. The annual Country Club Calcutta will be held July 20. Entries are now being taken at the Pro-Shop. There is a limit of 18 teams and the first signed up will play. The Calcutta Auction will be held after the Fish Fry Friday, July 19.

Team Standings: Chowns Clowns, 50; Lions, 42 1/2; Sand Buggers, 38 1/2; Toby's Boys, 36; Hush Puppies, 35 1/2; Ice Boxes, 34; Finishers, 33; F-Troop, 32; B-F's, 32; Roger's Dodgers, 30; Tornado's, 29 1/2; Pea Soups, 29 1/2; Masters, 22 1/2; and Dandies, 21 1/2.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

Other Woods

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A pro is restricted in tournament play to carrying only 15 clubs in his bag. That limits the number of useful woods. In my own case, as I've pointed out, I use an extra-lofted driver and a three-wood and a four-wood.

That gives me plenty of versatility off the tee. You don't always need to stress length. On the tour, George Archer is one of our tallest guys. You'd think he'd hit the ball a country mile.

I'm no expert on physics, but I do know that the distance you hit a golf ball is in direct proportion to the length of the shaft; the longer the radius of the rotated circle which the arc of a swing follows, the more clubhead speed is built up.

Put a driver head on a shaft a foot long and you couldn't get any speed up; put it on a fishing pole 35-feet long and think of the clubhead speed that would be generated—but you couldn't control it.

Well, George Archer uses the long shafts because he's 6-6 and he's relatively short in his drives in comparison with some of the other pros (like a Nicklaus or Weiskopf) because he's satisfied with the tempo of his swing and doesn't take the measures to increase

That's why, when the situation dictates a drive of 220 or 240 yards, I'll switch to a three-wood or a four-wood off the tee.

In the Masters, when Bob Graubly was finishing up his great last round, he used three-woods at the final two holes. I've used two-irons on occasions. A lot of the older fellows on the tour carry a one-iron, or a driving iron, as they call it.

(NEXT: Fairway Woods.)

AL Locker Room Quiet After Loss

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank Howard didn't have to raise his voice when he talked to newsmen in the American League locker room following the All-Star game. It was so quiet you could hear the spirit drop.

"If they hadn't scored that one run, we'd still be playing," he said. "You were seeing the best on both sides. It could have gone either way. It just went against us."

And he shrugged.

Nobody felt like talking. The American Leaguers did so only when newsmen forced it. They just came in, changed clothes and started eating at a buffet. Bottles of champagne cooling in a bucket went untouched.

Harmon Killebrew, the Minnesota first baseman whose first inning error allowed the Giants' Willie Mays to advance to second and eventually score the only run, limped badly and dodged questions. Killebrew was carried from the game on a

Lock To Protect Light From Police

MARLBOROUGH, Mo. (AP) — The signal box for a traffic light that occasionally fails to operate has been padlocked by the State Highway Department to keep police fingers off it.

"We've had a lot of trouble with this signal," said James Roberts, district highway engineer. "Part of the trouble is that we're getting a lot of help adjusting it."

The department says policemen were fiddling with it. But Marshal Melvin Cottom said his men were only opening the box to cool it and allow it to start working again. The department plans to install a larger fan.

Flying Bat Only Schoendist Woe

HOUSTON (AP) — A happy Red Schoendienst, manager of the National League team, said his worst moment in Tuesday night's 1-0 victory over the American League came when a bat flew into the dugout narrowly missing his head.

Schoendienst, of the St. Louis Cardinals, said "I hit the deck and stayed down. I got a strawberry on my knee—the first since my playing days."

The bat slipped from the hand of Tony Oliva of Minnesota. It struck Felipe Alou of Atlanta in the back. Alou wasn't hurt.

Gatewood Rough On Former Team

By The Associated Press

Right-hander Aubrey Gatewood isn't having an especially distinguished year for Rochester's International League leaders, but you couldn't prove it by the Buffalo Bisons—for whom he used to pitch.

Gatewood, who'll be 30 years old in November, has a 4-7 record and has completed only three of eight starts. But in three starting assignments against the Bisons, he has two victories and two complete games.

The latest route-going performance by the minor league veteran came Tuesday night as Rochester beat the Bisons for the sixth time in nine meetings, 8-3, to boost its slim IL lead to one game.

The only other action saw Richmond's Braves, who had lost 10 of 12 previous games with Jacksonville, turn the tables by whipping the Mets in both ends of a doubleheader, 4-3 and 4-2.

Brewery Workers Ratify Contract

PONTIAC (AP) — Some 120 brewery workers have ratified a contract, ending their nine-day strike against Oakland County beer distributors.

The members of United Brewery Workers Union voted Tuesday, by a reported 4-to-1 margin, in favor of a three-year pact calling for increases in wages and fringe benefits of 90 cents an hour. The union also was said to have won improvements in working conditions.

Protest Loss Of Homes In Public Housing Program

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Nine persons, who claim they are being threatened with displacement from their homes by public housing programs, were scheduled to air their complaints today.

A federal court hearing was scheduled in Grand Rapids before Judge Noel P. Fox. It stems from a complaint by nine Negroes and Mexican-Americans against the city of Lansing.

They said Lansing's planning commission and city council have approved a zoning variance which, subject to voter approval, would permit construction of 250 units of low rent housing. Those complaining say this construction threatens their displacement and loss of their homes.

The group seeks a court order to prevent the city from holding a referendum Aug. 6 over the issue of whether the zoning variance should or should not be permitted.

Four Rescued At Menominee

MENOMINEE—Four mid-Menominee County residents were rescued from Green Bay waters late Sunday afternoon after being adrift for approximately an hour and a half, according to the Menominee County sheriff's patrol.

The four were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Strohl and Phil Strohl, 19, all of Daggett, and Beverly Newlin, 17, of Wallace.

They were picked up at 5:53 p. m. about a mile off shore of Fox, about 2 1/2 miles east of Ingallston after the outboard motor on their craft stopped running causing them to drift before Kenneth Clark and Clarence Anderson, Cedar River residents towed them to shore.

Sheriff's deputies reported the four suffered no ill effects.

Besides the two men from Cedar River and the Menominee County sheriff's marine patrol and airplane, others taking part in the search included the Coast Guard ship from Plum Island and Michigan State Police from the Stephenson, Gladstone and Marquette posts as well as the State Police airplane.

Refrigerator Is Boy's Death Trap

LA HABRA, Calif. (AP) — The father of a boy missing for more than two hours found the bodies of his son and a companion, huddled together in an unused refrigerator in the family garage.

Salvador Ramos, 5, and John Rubio, 2, were discovered dead Tuesday by Salvador's father, Pablo Ramos.

The boys were missed shortly before noon by a 16-year-old babysitter.

Police Sgt. Ronald Meehan said the children apparently climbed into the unplugged refrigerator and the door slammed shut. He estimated the boys were in the refrigerator for more than two hours.

Aldermen Urge

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — The Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen has adopted a resolution asking citizens to "voluntarily relinquish all unnecessary firearms" to the town's police chief.

The measure, adopted by a 4-2 vote, also invites children to give up their toy guns to demonstrate their opposition to "violence as a way of life."

Ida Johnson Of Vulcan Dies There Tuesday

Mrs. Rockford Green, 321 S. 17th St., has been informed of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Emil (Ida) Johnson of Vulcan there Tuesday.

She is survived by her husband, a former resident of Ford River, one daughter, Mrs. Gordon Skog, and 7 grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Asp Funeral Home at Norway beginning at 4 p. m. today and funeral services will be held at the funeral home at 2 p. m. Thursday.

Police See Link In Girl Knifings

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Police sought Tuesday to determine if there was any connection between the slaying of an Eastern Michigan University coed, whose body was found last Friday, and earlier slayings of two girls in Illinois and Wisconsin.

Senior Capt. Harold Olson of the Ann Arbor Police Department said there were similarities in the deaths of Joan Schell of Plymouth and of Valerie Percy, daughter of U.S. Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois, and the death of Christine Rothchild, a University of Wisconsin coed.

Miss Percy was found stabbed to death in her family's home in the Chicago suburb of Kenilworth Sep. 18, 1966. The body of the Rothchild girl was found behind some bushes on the Wisconsin campus last May 26.

Olson said indications were that a weapon about the size of a hunting knife was used in each case.

Olson said he conferred by phone with University of Wisconsin police chief Ralph Hanson and also had been in touch with Illinois state police. He declined further comment on his conversations with other police.

Bridge Raising Is Peril For Traffic

DETROIT (AP)—The general manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan cited Tuesday the problem caused by raising, during peak traffic periods, the Zilwaukee Bridge on Interstate 75 south of Bay City.

Fred Rehm said he called for the investigation to see if, despite Federal nautical laws, the raising of the drawbridge could be halted at these periods.

"Raising the bridge when traffic is heavy is dangerous," Rehm said. "It has caused collisions, injuries and doubtless fatalities."

He questioned: "Should one ship or sand barge have the right of way over thousands of motorists on an interstate highway, risk their safety, and delay their trips?"

The bridge spans the Saginaw River. Rehm said there are plans for a high rise bridge over the river sometime after 1972.

Dog Is Surfer

Priest Killed In Car Crash Fire

DETROIT (AP)—A Lithuanian-born priest died Tuesday when his car reportedly swerved into the path of a gasoline truck on a Detroit freeway causing it to overturn and explode. Flames shot 20 feet in the air as a result of spewing gas.

Killed was the Rev. Bronislaus Dagilis, 59, who police said swerved into the path of a Kayo Oil Co. truck driven by Carroll Webster, 29.

Webster, who was treated at a Detroit hospital for burns, said it all happened suddenly, but he thought Father Dagilis' car had a blowout which caused the car to swerve.

Traffic was blocked and backed up nearly a mile on the eastbound lane of the Edsel Ford Freeway (Interstate 94) from the accident site under the French Road overpass.

Rain

ST. IGNACE—Although June traffic and revenues were the highest for any June since the opening of the Mackinac Bridge more than 10 years ago, Fourth of July weekend traffic was slightly off. June traffic and revenues were 12% over June of 1967, but these increases would have been greater had it not rained for 7 out of the last 10 days of the month.

Calhoun Okays Sunday Liquor

LANSING (AP) — Calhoun County has become the first in the state to approve Sunday sale of liquor under provisions of a new state law.

The Sunday liquor bill, which became law July 3 without the signature of Gov. George Romney, provides that liquor may be sold after 2 p. m. on Sundays in establishments in which the sale of food or other goods and services exceeds 50 per cent of the total gross receipts.

The law takes effect immediately in counties where it is approved by the board of supervisors. In any county where the issue is not approved by supervisors with 60 days, people may petition for a vote at the general state election.

Soviets Claim Yanks Smuggle

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda reported today that two American students were caught trying to smuggle out anti-Soviet literature provided by the Chinese Embassy in Moscow.

The Communist party newspaper said customs officials at Brest, on the Soviet-Polish border, also discovered Russian icons hidden in the Americans' car.

The newspaper identified the two young men as James Kratzer and Larry Watson and said they were students at an affiliate of Stanford University in Vienna.

The U.S. Embassy said it knew nothing about the report and was investigating.

Pravda's report from Brest indicated that the students were being held in custody, but it was not clear on this point.

The party organ said the willingness of the Chinese Embassy to provide anti-Soviet propaganda to Americans "convincingly showed what sort of friends the Chinese splitters (of the Communist movement) rely on."

"This proves the worth of the Chinese curses against American imperialism," the paper added.

The Chinese Embassy declined to comment.

Seeks Election To Offices He Wants To Eliminate

MLWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A member of the Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors is seeking election to three county offices which he wants eliminated as elective posts.

Supervisor Daniel F. Casey of suburban Greendale filed nominating petitions Monday for county clerk, treasurer and registrar of deeds in the November elections.

Casey said he will use a bumper-sticker campaign to get public backing for his proposal to make the offices appointive with career administrators.

Memorial Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Memorial services were planned at Washington's National Cathedral for Dr. Leo Sowerby, 73, a Grand Rapids native who won a Pulitzer Prize in 1946 for his church and organ music. He died Sunday at Put-in-Bay, Ohio.

Order Needed, Says Dickerson

EAST LANSING (AP) — Milton B. Dickerson, vice president for student affairs at Michigan State University, says he is in complete agreement with the school's board of trustees, who have passed a resolution saying freedom to dissent can only be maintained by preserving order and discipline.

"I was instrumental in drafting that resolution," Dickerson told the Associated Press. "It is a complete statement of my own feelings."

On June 15 the Associated Press erroneously reported that "Dr. Dickerson said the resolution passed by the trustees is an expression of their point of view and not necessarily binding."

Dr. Dickerson said the resolution "certainly" was binding and is "the policy that we are following in our present procedures."

Detroit Gets Nevada Position

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Deputy Commissioner Edward Crippen of the Detroit Health Department was named Tuesday as Nevada Health Officer, State and Welfare Director Karl Harris announced.

Dr. Crippen, a former health officer in Mobile, Ala., replaces Dr. Edward Dehne who resigned last December after several feuds with his staff and bosses about the health Department's administration.

Crippen, who will earn $21,000 a year, takes over Aug. 5.
